

WPC MEMBERS HONORED AT THIS YEAR'S ANNUAL AUTOMOTIVE NEWS PACE AWARDS

WPC members Leggett & Platt and Fulton Innovation were finalists in the 2013 annual Automotive News PACE Awards for their collaboration in the development of wireless charging in the 2014 Jeep Cherokee. The wireless power technology in the Cherokee uses the Qi global standard and further demonstrates the great strides Qi is making in the automotive space.

The annual Automotive News PACE Awards honors automotive suppliers for superior innovation, technological advancement and business performance. PACE stands for Premier Automotive Suppliers' Contribution to Excellence. This prestigious award, now in its nineteenth year, is recognized around the world as the industry benchmark for innovation. The awards were presented by Automotive News with Ernst & Young and the Transportation Research Center Inc.

Congratulations to Leggett & Platt and Fulton Innovation!